Sister Mary Edward, R.S.M., former principal, and now guidance director of Saint Francis Xavier Academy, Providence.

In Appreciation

Our minds, ever searching for greatness, found in the person of Sister Mary Edward, R.S.M., one whose leadership and infinite kindness will influence all who have attended Bay View during her tenure as teacher and as principal. We, as students, under her guidance and example were eager to learn; she, as sculptor and painter, fingered and colored her figurines; inspired us to do our very best.

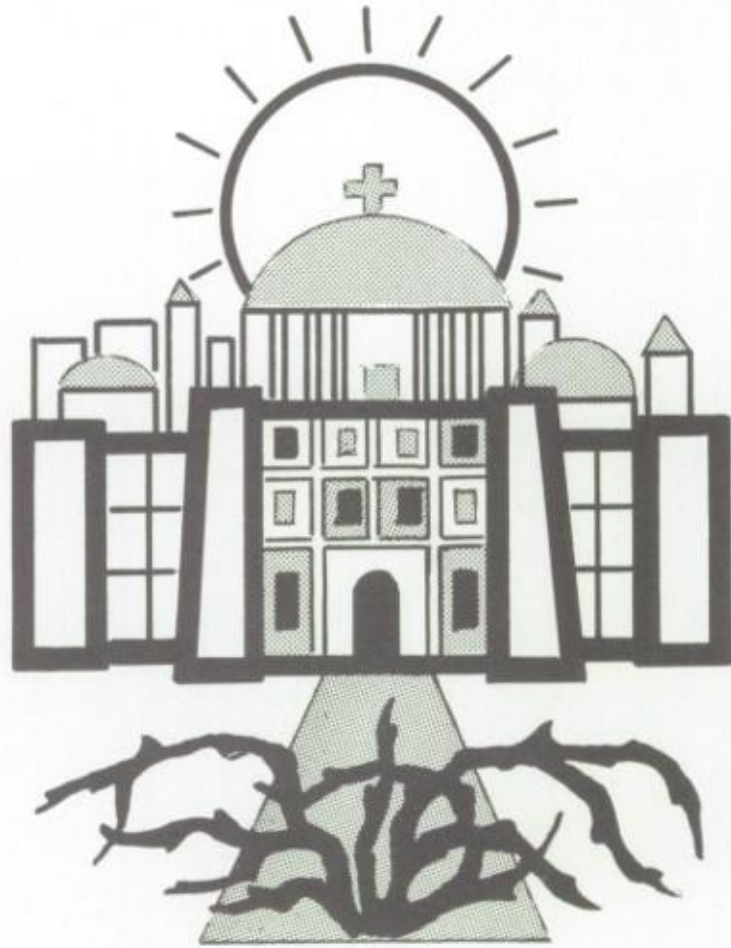

With patient energy she challenged the problems which are constantly confronting any administrator. In many ways she helped to make Bay View a second home for all her students. With a cheerful smile and a familiar greeting she was always ready to assist or advise anyone who might approach her. With a resoluteness undaunted by difficulties, she reached for a goal of unity and loyalty in the school.

Sister tried to mirror the deeds of Our Lady, to plant the seed of Wisdom and to echo the Word of God. In grace, in peace and in charity, we believe she has directed us towards a better understanding of our own future.

Our book of memories could not be written without a lingering glance in her direction; for her memories are our memories. Leaving Saint Mary's was God's plan, wishing her the best of memories of Bay View is ours; and prayerfully hoping for a continued happy and holy life is our dedication in this 1964 McAuleyan.

*Guided by the Holy Spirit,

ADMINISTRATION

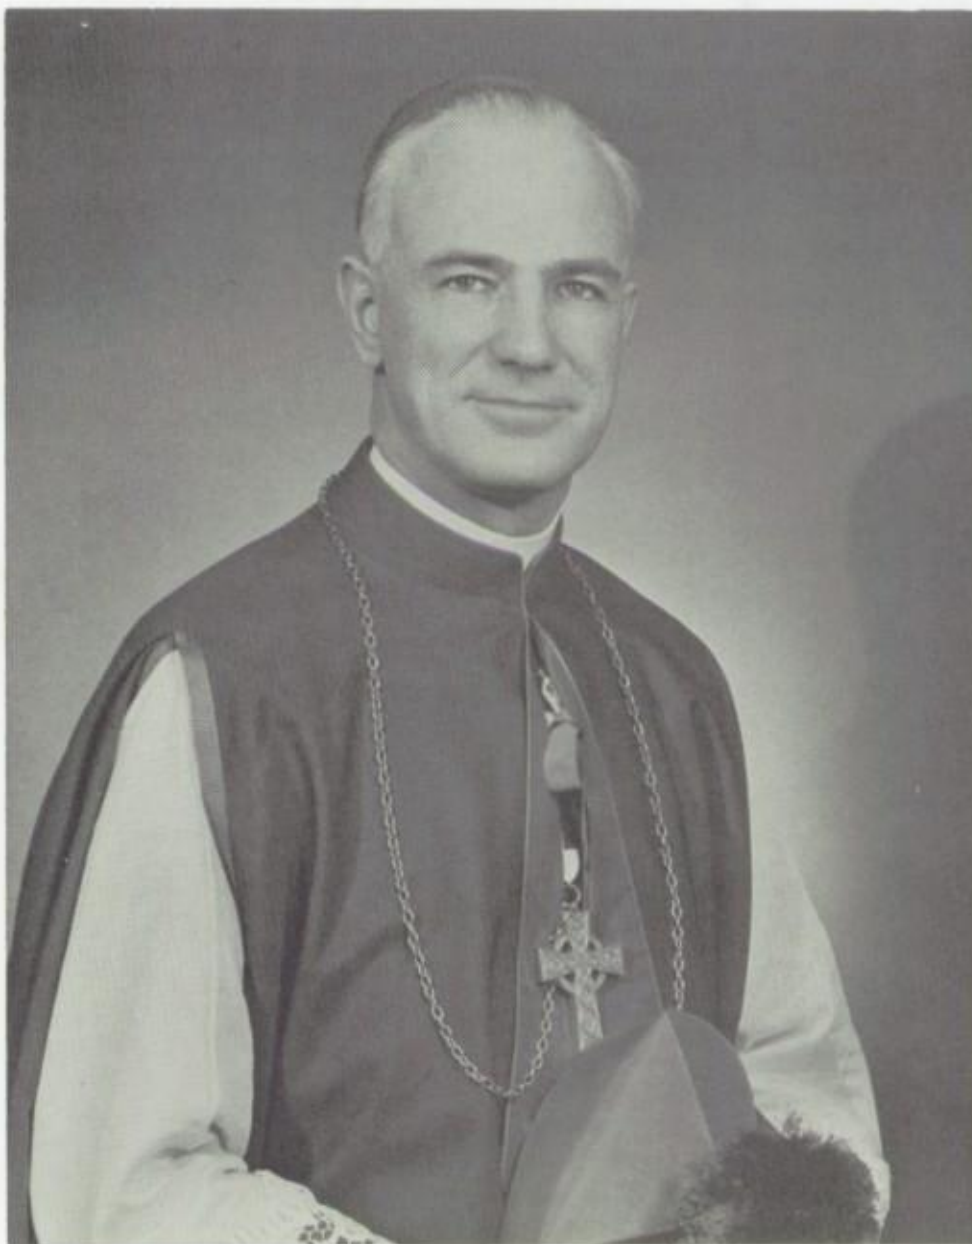

Our Bishops

Bishop of Providence.

The students of St. Mary's Academy, Bay View, extend to our Bishops, the Most Reverend Russell J. McVinney, Bishop of Providence, and Most Reverend Bernard M. Kelly, auxiliary Bishop, heartfelt appreciation for their generosity and willingness to help us always.

Both our Bishop and newly-elected auxiliary Bishop have been sources of constant guidance, wise counsel, and gracious assistance. Again we thank you, Most Reverend Bishops.

His Excellency, Most Reverend Bernard Kelly, Auxiliary

by whose direction

and Chaplain

One of Father Hughes' duties is to read the graduates' names at annual Commencement exercises.

Father Hughes poses on the campus beside the Queen of May just after the annual Procession in Mary's honor.

For the past three years, we students of Bay View have been privileged to have as our chaplain, the Reverend Joseph Hughes. For all of us, Father has been a source of spiritual guidance in our daily lives. He celebrates Mass daily for the Sisters and resident students, as well as for the student body on First Friday. In addition, Father was recently appointed Vocation Director of Sodality. Thank you, Father, for all your help.

Mother Mary Helena, R.S.M., is Mother Provincial of the Province of Providence to which all Sister faculty at Bay View belong.

Mother Mary Alban, R.S.M., is assistant Mother Provincial, and aids Mother Mary Helena in governing the thousand members of the Province.

Sister Mary Bernard, R.S.M., is the new principal of Bay View. Registrar last year, Sister was formerly superior of Saint Catherine's Convent, Belize.

Sister Mary Catherine, R.S.M., is superior of the convent here and in charge of all Sisters and resident students of Saint Joseph's Hall.

We have grown and flourished

St. Mary's Academy, Bay View, overlooking Narragansett Bay, is in Riverside, Rhode Island. Due to the expert guidance and instruction by the Religious Sisters of Mercy, it is an accredited private Catholic School. Sister Mary Bernard, R.S.M., is principal of Bay View.

Bay View consists of a co-ed grammar school and a modern high school exclusively for girls. Senior high school students are offered an excellent college preparatory course. Also of importance in the life of a Bay View student are the extra-curricular activities. The "big and little" sister program promotes a warm feeling between upper and lower classmen. Various clubs and sports, which number many, add to the development of a well-rounded Bay View girl.

On the campus of the academy is the school, convent, dormitory and swimming pool, which is frequented by the boarders and summer campers.

Mother Mary Regina, R.S.M., Mother General of the Sisters of Mercy of the Union in the United States, is pictured in the model apartment last fall during a visit to the academy.

and purpose . . .*

Julie Gendvilis, senior, does some elementary mathematical analysis under the direction of Sister Mary Kieran, R.S.M., Cand. M.S. Sister, who was recently made a Provincial Councilor of the Province of Providence, is Senior 4 homeroom teacher and religion and math instructor.

Nancy Cox, Jean Lesveque, Patricia Fell, Paula Whitty, and Paula Butterfield weigh chemicals in preparation for an experiment under the direction of Sister Mary Claver, R.S.M., M.S., head of the science department and Senior 3 homeroom teacher.

Sister Mary Marcella, R.S.M., M.A., teaches some French to seniors with the aid of records. Sister is homeroom teacher of Junior 1 and teaches French and religion classes.

Karen Pezza and Kathleen Boyd do some geometry under the direction of Sister Mary Terence, R.S.M., Cand. M.S., head of the math department. Sister is homeroom teacher of Junior 2 and instructs math and religion classes.

*Remain constant

Sister Mary Jane Frances, R.S.M., M.E., and Martha Valante, Mary McEntee, Corinne Manzo, and Pamela Sullivan look over some religion in preparation for a class discussion. Sister teaches Junior 3 homeroom and has English, history, and religion classes.

Sister Mary Euphrasia, R.S.M., M.A., illustrates a point in religion at the blackboard. Sister teaches Junior 4 homeroom and gives instruction in religion and bookkeeping.

Marion Mitchell, Maureen Armstrong, Terry Cunningham, and Gail Montague of Sophomore 2 listen to a recording under the supervision of Sister Mary Francella, R.S.M., B.A., homeroom teacher of Junior 5 and religion, English and Latin teacher.

Sister Mary Patrician, R.S.M., Cand. M.A., Louise Barry and Sheila Lennon admire a medal for excellence in current affairs recently awarded. Sister teaches Sophomore 1 home-room and religion and history classes.

Sister Marie Sarah, R.S.M., M.S., discusses some questions in senior chemistry class with her students. A sophomore homeroom teacher, Sister also teaches biology and physical science.

Sister Mary Protase, R.S.M., M.A., plays a recording for senior members of a French 3 class. Sister is home-room teacher of a Sophomore class and teaches French and religion.

Carol Quinn, Martha Morrone, Joanne Campbell, and Mary Lou Rider go over some physics problems with Sister Mary Emeria, R.S.M., B.A., instructor and a Sophomore homeroom teacher. Sister also teaches math and religion classes.

Sister Mary Maris Stella, R.S.M., Cand. M.A., teaches French to a group of Juniors. A Freshman homeroom teacher, Sister has religion and French classes.

They instruct us towards greater perfection

Darlene Spaziano and Merylene Lavoie, devoted library workers, check some cards with Sister Mary Faith, R.S.M., Cand. M.S. in L.S., academy librarian and Freshman English teacher.

Sister Miriam Theresa, R.S.M., in charge of the academy orchestra and band, plays the organ at an assembly for senior Paula Whitty, drum majorette and orchestra member.

Sister Mary Sylvia, R.S.M., M.A., and Maryann Sheridan, Daryl Maxey, and Sandra Brackett plan a Hi-Time discussion for a religion period. Sister is in charge of Freshman 3 and teaches English and history.

Sister Mary Tarcisius, R.S.M., M.A., looks over an issue of the Bay Viewer, academy newspaper, during a study period under her direction, and offers comments to seniors Maureen McHugh and Patricia Errico.

Kathy Brown, Cathy Earnshaw and Hannah O'Gara are instructed in some of the finer points of typing by Mrs. Stephen Walsh, B.A., who teaches typing and office practice.

Miss Eileen McSoley, B.A., is guidance director at the academy. She also teaches some English classes and helps moderate the Student Council.

Mr. John Corrado comes weekly for practice sessions with the band and orchestra and directs them at many public functions.

Sister Mary Owen, R.S.M., Cand. M.S., basketball moderator, poses with team members Pat Kiely, Kathy McGuinn, Sheila Martin, Mildred Struck and Alberta Morrisette.

In His way.

Sister Mary Edward Francis, R.S.M., B.A., and Mrs. Marilyn McKenna have charge of the academy office and do all the secretarial work connected with such a large establishment.

Sister Mary Rembert, R.S.M., M.E., is treasurer of the academy and takes care of all financial affairs connected with the school.

Mrs. Sandra Weintraub, B.A., goes over some physical science with Kathy McKeon and Maryann Sheridan, members of the Freshman class. Mrs. Weintraub also teaches gym classes.

Mrs. Marie Kane, dramatics coach of the high school, also teaches speech in the elementary school here.

CLASSES

*Most Holy Spirit
come to our aid*

Susan Kearns, Margaret Moran and Charlene Dooley of Senior 4 work on some chemistry equations during a class under the direction of Sister Marie Sarah, R.S.M. Almost all of the college bound or future nurses in the senior class take this subject.

Marion Boisvert, Carol Ann Dee, Leah Gorman, Lorraine Greene, Marilyn Phillips, Sheila O'Rourke, Geraldine Kratzer, Jeanne Rondeau, Pauline Messier, Sandra Mosesian, Janet Piscione and Agnes Agresti, of Senior 5, are becoming expert typists during this second year of the subject taught by Mrs. Walsh.

Sister Mary Kieran, R.S.M., teaches algebra and review math to seniors and juniors. This course prepares them to take college board and nursing exams. Seated listening to an explanation are Judy Burns, Joanne Emmel, and Laura DeLacerda of Senior 5.

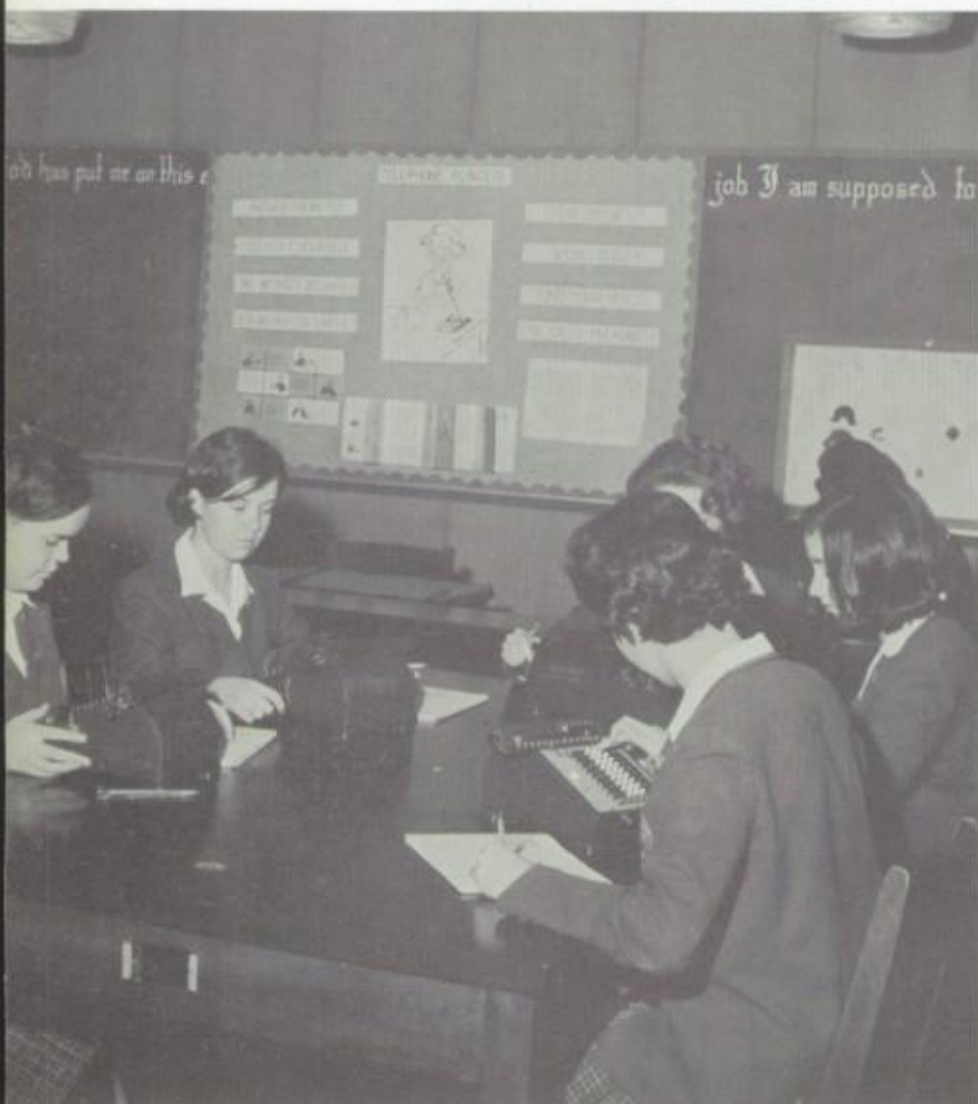

Paulette Menoche, Mary Farrell, and Kathleen McCabe go over a difficult French passage during a French 3 class with Sister Mary Protase, R.S.M., instructor, who spent last summer as a Fulbright Scholar in Europe, with several weeks of study in Paris.

Sister Mary Patrician, R.S.M., holds the attention of members of Junior 4 during a lecture class in American History, a must subject for all students at Bay View.

Margaret Haggerty explains a theorem to other members of Junior 2 geometry class which meets each day under the guidance of Sister Mary Terence, R.S.M.

Learning how to use business machines, directed by Mrs. Walsh, are Marion Boisvert, Lorraine Greene, Pauline Messier, Sheila O'Rourke and Janet Piscione.

Sister Mary Ludivine, R.S.M., and members of a Sophomore Spanish class follow in their Spanish text books the words of a recording being played to their group.

Enlighten our minds that we may successfully complete

Biology becomes a fascinating subject for sophomores when they use the microscope under the expert guidance of Sister Marie Sarah, R.S.M.

Looking up some pertinent bookkeeping material are members of Senior 5 who are taking the business course and hope to become members of the business world in the near future.

Large group instruction in English is held by Senior and Junior classes. Here members of Senior 1, 2, and 3 watch some slides on Chaucer and the Canterbury Tales run off by Sister Mary Enda, R.S.M. Groups also break up for discussion and smaller group instruction.

Our course of studies,

Members of Senior 2 work on trigonometry, an intriguing subject, when taught by Sister Mary Kieran, R.S.M.

Carol Counts and Pauline Ferland hold a map for Sister Mary Margarita, R.S.M., during a junior history class. Visual aids help to impress important facts on the girls' minds.

Juniors taking physics under the direction of Sister Mary Emeria, R.S.M., work out problems during class while Sister answers any questions students might have.

and honorably fill

to which we may be called.*

Juniors are pictured during a class period of second year Spanish. Here they are reading and translating a story from Spanish to English.

Enjoying the first issue of the Bay Viewer for the year are Seniors Janet Piscione, Carol Ann Dee, Agnes Agresti, Judy Burns, Sandra Mosesian, and Jeanne Rondeau.

Cornelia Sullivan, Mary Surette, Sheila O'Rourke, Laura DeLacerda, Geraldine Kratzer, Lorraine Greene and Judy Burns prepare to participate in a discussion during a Senior 5 religion class, directed by Sister Mary Gratia, R.S.M.

Juniors who wish to may take personal typing with Mrs. Walsh. It is a skill all girls desire to have for they need it for typing many things during high school and college.

A new method of teaching French, that of the M.L.A., was inaugurated at Bay View this year. Singing along with a recording are some Freshmen, who like this audio-approach very much.

It seems like only yesterday when we stepped over the threshold to Bay View with feelings of awe and anticipation, as we prepared to fulfill our role as Freshmen. Now, just four years later, we find that we are Seniors, soon to stand at the threshold of a larger door as we prepare to fulfill a larger role.

As Seniors, many warm and wonderful memories come to mind as we think of our high school days at Bay View. We will always remember the Father-Daughter dances, our Junior Prom and our basketball games, as well as our more serious moments during exam-time. We will remember all these experiences, but especially dear to our hearts are the friends we have made here.

ACTIVITIES

Devotion is daily

The Sodality of Our Lady, Cause of Our Joy, has, under the direction of Sister Mary Euphrasia, R.S.M., Sister Mary Francella, R.S.M., and Sister Mary Kieran, R.S.M., developed the theme: "Renewal . . . the New Pentecost." This year three apostolates were formed; the first, Spiritual Apostolate, consisted of apostolic-mindedness and development. The second was Public School Apostolate, in which every sodalist tried to influence a public school student with Catholic living. Thirdly, the Social Apostolate, was composed of four lectures for the benefit of the students and their parents. Visiting institutions was one of the charitable acts performed by the sodalists. All endeavored to live the words of St. Paul, their model: "I am an apostle."

This year's officers include: Karen Beauvais, Prefect; Jane Towey, Vice-Prefect; Elaine MacNamara, Corresponding Secretary; Jane Hayes, Recording Secretary; and Lucretia Passarelli, Treasurer.

Dr. Paul Van K. Thomson, English Professor at Providence College, addressed an attentive audience at the first Family Night held here in November. It was sponsored by the Sodality.

Judith Frechette, Joanne Nerone, Linda Regine, Patricia Davis, Catherine Dube, and Sophomore Sodality moderator, Sister Mary Kieran, R.S.M., pack clothing for the St. Martin de Porres Center.

Mary McCabe, Mary Agnes Langlois, Marcia Boyd, Sharyn Molloy, and Maria Hanushevsky plan a program for a Junior Sodality meeting.

Sister Mary Euphrasia, R.S.M., and Senior Sodalists fix a display on the Sodality bulletin board on the top corridor to go along with the current apostolate of the Sodality.

Literary editors of the 1964 McAuleyan include: Marie Fusco, Cynthia Saccocia, Judy Dow, Carol Schmith, Judy Allen, Susan McKeough, Mary Maguire, Barbara McGarry, Paula McGowan, and Dorcas Woodbury.

The spirit is preserved

Jane Nerone, Senior 1, worked hard, along with her staff, on this issue of the McAuleyan, and was happy when all deadlines were met and the book ready for the press.

Business staff members of the yearbook include Celeste DeSabato, business manager, Lucretia Passarelli, Patricia Nolan, Dianne DelPonte, and Paula Whitty.

McAuleyan 1964

"Memory is the treasure-house of the mind wherein the monuments thereof are kept and preserved." Fuller.

To graduates, nothing seems more important after the excitement of commencement day has passed, than something recalling to them thoughts of the past years, the days, the moments at Bay View. The memory of high school days will undoubtedly remain fixed in each girl's heart.

The 1964 McAuleyan, however, is a special collection of memories, made precious because they are ours alone.

The yearbook itself could never have seen the light of day without the tremendous assistance of Sister Mary Gratia, R.S.M., who made herself constantly available to staff members. Her enthusiastic efforts encouraged us more than words can express. To Sister we wish to convey our sincere feelings of gratitude. We are also thankful to all Senior journalists who contributed in any way to make our yearbook a reality.

Circulation staff members are: Kathy Reilly, circulation manager; Carol Riccitelli, Mary Latina, Mary Farrell, Eugenie Foster, Mary Heatherton, Maureen Byrnes, Louise Casey, Judith McKeough, Doris Bessette, Jacqueline Rogers, Patricia Fell, Kathleen Curtin, and Nancy Cox.

Miraculous events coincide to create

The recipe for a successful school newspaper lists "a bit of news, a pinch of humor, a touch of poetry, a chunk of originality, and a great deal of thought." While the Bay Viewer staff nears the stage of nervous collapse in undertaking such a task, the relief seeing the finished product resembles the reaction to a stay of execution. Despite the fleeting joy (for news is soon stale, and another issue beckons) this hardy staff wouldn't trade places with anyone else—The Bay Viewer is their creation!

Associate editors of the Bay Viewer: Cynthia LaFrance, Susan Saccoccia, Frances Gallogly, and Nancy Testa look over the first issue.

Reporters: Louise Barry, Roberta Chapman, Corinne Reardon, Cynthia Jadosz, Barbara Sabota, Suzanne Derham, Paula Rufo, Linda Bergeron, Jean Levesque, and Beatrice Sornberger work hard on copy for each edition of the school paper.

The Bay Viewer

Pauline Messier, managing editor, and her staff: Marion Boisvert, Hannah O'Gara, Agnes Agresti, and Sandra Mosesian, get some copy ready for another edition of the Bay Viewer.

Sheila Lennon, editor of the 1963-64 Bay Viewer confers with Sister Mary Gratia, R.S.M., faculty moderator of the newspaper and also of the yearbook.

A sense of Justice

Miss Eileen McSoley and Sister Mary Maris Stella, R.S.M., faculty moderators of the Student Council, confer with Joan McLaughlin, president, about the agenda for the year of this very active organization.

Senior officers: Joan McLaughlin, Cheryl Smaldone, Kay Forgiel, Anne Powers, Pauline Messier, and Mary McConnon talk with Freshman representative Margaret Lynch and Sophomore representative Linda Regine about some of the future projects of the Council.

is developed

The organization known as the Bay View Students Association, established six years ago, continues to govern its members. Under the capable direction of Sister Mary Maris Stella, R.S.M., and Miss Eileen McSoley, the Student Council undertakes many projects which provide a challenge for both the Council members and the student body alike. In order to promote the theme of unity among upper and lower classmen the Council provides each Senior and Junior girl with a Sophomore and Freshman "little sister" respectively. Together they share many happy experiences in attending many basketball games and the annual play day. The Student Council time and again proves itself an integral part of the Bay, functioning as a disciplinary and governing body.

Junior representatives: Anne Moriarty, Barbara Pieri, Joanne Monfet, Paula Marino and Sandra Adshead are pictured ascending the stairs to attend a weekly meeting of the Council, held after classes on Tuesdays.

Student rules committee, consisting of Dorcas Woodbury, chairman; Norine McManus, Carol Tomilson, Celeste DeSabato, and Hannah O'Gara meet to discuss some proposed changes in the constitution of the association.

Sister Mary Ludivine, R.S.M., faculty moderator, and seniors Dorcas Woodbury, Sandra Famiglietti, and Bernadette Kachanis are pictured reading through a script for the school play.

We have risen to Dramatic Heights

Trying on costumes for one of the school plays are: Anne Connors, Joanne Monfet, Marijane Healy, Maureen Fitzgerald, and Carol Counts.

The Dramatics Club at Bay View is under the direction of Sister Mary Ludivine, R.S.M. Sister, as moderator, assisted by the drama coach, Mrs. Marie Kane, meets weekly with the club members to direct their progress.

Through the strenuous efforts of their two leaders the girls are guided in many ways. The art of correct speaking, diction, poise, and ease in front of an audience, plus the mechanics behind the scene, are the goals attained by the drama students.

The members stage productions during the school year for the student body and the public. Each year a play is presented by the girls in competition at the State-wide Drama Festival. Here all are given the opportunity to prove that the assistance and encouragement of their coaches, plus a lot of hard work, help them become artists of the stage.

Cast members of the successful Freshman play, "One Love Had Mary," were: Martha Rose Laffy, Maryann Sheridan, Deborah Howrie, Kathleen Revens, Linda DaCosta, and Ann Gardiner.

Kathy never forget the bumpy bus rides and good luck always a g a.

Getting together jewelry for adornment of "Snow White" are Jean Mollicone, Eileen Cardoz, Patricia Errico, Kathleen Brown, and Anne Powers.

Members of the prize winning play "So Wonderful—In White" were: Mary Agnes Langlois, Anne Moriarty, Carolyn Lenz, Mary Anne Molak, Jean Murphy, Maria Hanushevsky, and Carolee Stadnicki.

Our Music is most spirited

Dorothy Horne, Sheila Kiely, and Donna Perron, orchestra members, practice before the annual Christmas concert held in December in the auditorium.

Pat Davy, Colleen Lonergan, Francine Corado, Margaret Whitty, and Sister Miriam Theresa, R.S.M., faculty moderator, work on some music for the annual concert which is held to obtain funds to buy new instruments for the orchestra and band.

Orchestra members: Pauline Ferland, Michelle Leaver, Mary Ann Gomes, Joyce DiMauro, Nancy Shaw, and Cheryl Thacker work on some of the compositions the orchestra will play at the annual concert held for parents and friends of the orchestra and band.

Two sources of great enjoyment to all students and visitors of Bay View have always been our orchestra and band composed of members of the high school as well as many grammar school students. This talented group, instructed by Sister Miriam Theresa, R.S.M., and conducted by Mr. John Corrado, have accompanied many school productions as well as our annual May procession. All appreciate a job well done.

"A teacher affects eternity." With this thought in mind, the Future Teachers Club was organized at Bay View last year. The Club is directed by Sister Mary Terence, R.S.M. Members are given an insight into the teaching profession and the preparation required for teaching by lectures from leading educators and college officials, and by educational films, shown the girls, concerning the teaching profession. Different branches of education are explored enabling members to find positions for the future most suitable to their abilities and interests.

With the background information future teachers receive at their meetings it is ardently hoped that they will be aided and encouraged in achieving their goals.

Future Teachers' Club bulletin board committee members are: Karen Belanger, Gail Henderson, Joan McQueeney, and Joan Watson. Girls fix displays that will interest students who intend to become teachers.

Future Teachers' Club officers are: Sister Mary Terence, R.S.M., moderator; Mary McConnon, president; Joan McLaughlin, vice-president; Patricia Collins, secretary; and Corinne Reardon, treasurer. They take charge of all club meetings and contact speakers in the various teaching fields,

We advance toward Teaching Careers

Projects committee members are: Lucretia Passarelli, Gail Henderson, Jennifer Turano, Nancy Davis, and Maureen McHugh, who take charge of all projects sponsored by the club in the course of the year.

Dads and daughters led by the class presidents and their fathers, promenade at the grand march, highlight of the annual father-daughter dance in St. Joseph's Hall.

A Family Affair

Anticipation became reality when, in February, the Bay View girls extended warm invitations to their favorite beaux. This year we were fortunate to have our "soirée" in the beautiful social room of St. Joseph's Hall.

The gals and their escorts danced the night away to music of today and yesteryear provided by Johnny Azevedo's band—pausing now and then for a refreshing glass of punch and exchange of words between old friends.

As always, the dance was a success with a majority of the dads attending and all enjoying every minute of it.

Susan Kearns and her dad are obviously enjoying the lilting music played by Johnny Azevedo and his band at the pre-lenten dance held each year.

Introductions are made in order as Jeanne Rondeau introduces her dad to the fathers of several of her friends at the annual affair held in the Social Room of the Residence Hall.

Conversation and introductions are in order as Sophomores and their dates pause for conversation between dances at the annual Sophomore Hop held in November.

In November, the prospective graduating class of 1966 sponsored a Harvest Hop for the benefit of Sophomores and Juniors. The gym took on an aura of splendid autumn colors and the centerpiece proved to be distinctly unique. The entire atmosphere of the gym illustrated the artistic ability of many sophs.

The girls and their "beaux" danced the evening away to the delightful music of Johnny Azevedo and his orchestra which is traditional at the Bay.

Mr. Scarecrow has a very precarious position in the basket, especially when tall escorts jump for him at the Sophomore Hop! All enjoyed the harvest decorations and congenial atmosphere of the eventful affair.

For Sophomores and Guests

Pat Grady and her escort are pictured before the large harvest scene that set the theme for the Sophomore Hop held in November in the school gym and attended by a large and enthusiastic group.

Seniors Cynthia LaFrance and Patricia Errico and their escorts look over the program for the night's festivities at the annual winter social event, the Crystal Ball.

Crystal-ized Memories!

The sixth annual Crystal Ball was held January 31 at the Colony Motor Inn. As the long awaited night drew near the girls excitedly made plans and discussed dresses with friends. When the big night finally arrived all hurried home to get ready. The gaily dressed girls and their escorts danced to the music of Mr. John A. Azevedo and his band, that played everything from the twist to the old stand-by, the waltz.

For many this was the first Crystal Ball. But the seniors, realizing it would be their last, enjoyed every minute. As the couples danced the last dance, they agreed that this truly was one of the finest balls and one always to be remembered.

Paula Butterfield, Jean Sullivan, Doris Bessette, and Karen Beauvais and their escorts enjoy a dance in the Colony Motel's Empire Room during the ball.

Belles of the night at the annual Crystal Ball included: Hannah Mahoney, Liz Mullen, Janice Caffrey and Maureen Byrnes, who posed for the photographer on the beautiful Colony staircase.

A large crowd of juniors and seniors danced to the music of Johnny Azevedo and his band at the annual Crystal Ball held on January 31 at the beautiful Colony Motor Hotel in Cranston. This annual event, highlight of the winter season, is sponsored by the Student Council.

Members of the library club, pictured, work many hours each week to keep the library in good condition. They repair books, dust shelves, check books in and out and remind tardy borrowers that their books are overdue.

Virginia D'Allesandro, Cheryl Smaldone, Pat Collins, Hannah O'Gara, Mary Jane Cuddy, and Sheila O'Rourke unpack text books and books for supplementary reading in the book room off the library.

A source to supplement knowledge

Sister Mary Valeria, R.S.M., Ed.B., clerical assistant in the library, keeps all files in order and does many of the other jobs so necessary to keep a large library running smoothly.

Sister Mary Faith, R.S.M., librarian, Pat Magee, Susam DeConte, and Sandra Marino look over some cards so that there are no overdue books that have not been checked on.

The library, under the supervision of Sister Mary Faith, R.S.M., is an integral part of the life of a Bay View student. Used frequently by members of the faculty and the student body, it offers a wealth of information to those seeking it. An interested student is pleased with the excellent periodical department as well as the extensive reference department. The large room provides a perfect atmosphere for those who wish to work on a long term assignment.

Members of the library club serve as aides, whose work includes straightening the card catalogue, arranging reference books and performing many of the extensive tasks that are necessary in order to keep the library in good order.

Roberta Georgio, Pat Galli, Barbara Bromley, Mary Lou Abbott, Mary Jane McConnell and Margarita Pelrine get periodicals ready to send out for binding in the large periodical room, which opens off the main library.

Science Clubs

Science Club members study a model of the human heart at a regular monthly meeting of the club in the biology laboratory.

The two science clubs which are now in their second year, have become an important part of the science program at Bay View. The two clubs were organized under the able supervision of Sister Mary Claver, R.S.M. Seniors and Juniors form the Nieuwland Club named for the famous scientist, Father Julius Nieuwland, C.S.C. of Notre Dame, who synthesized neoprene. Sophomores and Freshmen form the Albertus Magnus club, named for Albert the Great.

Plans were made this year for guests distinguished in the field of science to attend meetings and to speak to the girls about their particular branch in science. Also scheduled were field trips to various places of interest. As members of the science club, the girls become acquainted with the numerous fields which are open to them in science today.

A group of the club members plan science projects with Sister Mary Claver, R.S.M., faculty moderator of the Science Club. Members enter projects in the annual Rhode Island Science Fair.

Offices of the Future Nurses Club: Alberta Morrisette, Joanne Dobras, and Ruth Struck with Sister Mary Sarah, R.S.M., faculty moderator, plan all meetings and contact various speakers who talk on various nursing careers for the club members each month.

and Future Nurses

Future Nurses who went to St. Joseph's Hospital for a phantom surgery demonstration, are pictured above. Girls were enthralled with the "operation" performed by Dr. Frederick J. Fay and a staff.

The Future Nurses' Club already in its fourth year, is in full swing. Under the capable guidance and direction of Sister Marie Sarah, R.S.M., the girls meet every other week for a guest speaker or discussion. The club's meetings prove invaluable, providing an insight into the career the girls have chosen. Periodically, during the year the club members visit various hospitals and participate in nursing duties first-hand. Officers presiding over club functions this year are: Ruth Struck, President; Alberta Morrisette, Vice President; and Joann Dobras, Treasurer.

Red Cross Talent Unit members pictured go to hospitals to entertain the ill. They have performed at many of the hospitals and nursing homes throughout the state during the year, especially at the various holiday seasons.

Rosemary Carty and Norine MacManus look up material for world affairs meeting with Sister Mary Patrician, R.S.M., moderator. Girls hold discussions and panels pertinent to current affairs.

Susan Saccoccia and Jean Sullivan arrange a bulletin board for World Affairs Forum to interest other students in current world problems.

World Affairs

The main function of the World Affairs Forum is the discussion and dissection of current world events. Sister Mary Patrician, R.S.M., the moderator, instigates the scintillating and controversial topics to be discussed.

Seniors and Juniors meet weekly, getting a broader insight into the daily problems facing humanity. Leaders of this year's club include: Susan Saccoccia, President; Rosemary Cardi, Vice President; Jean Sullivan, Secretary; and Norine MacManus, Treasurer. These girls planned the successful trip to Washington, D.C.

Bring Debatable Issues

Novices: Mary Ellen Murray, Pamela Fardie, Mary Beth Richard, Kathryn McNamee, Nancy Palmisciano, Janet Goss and Jacqueline Simmons, prepare speeches and defend their views before a varsity debate.

Debate Club officers: Rosemary Carty, Sheila Lennon and Louise Barry, directed by Sister Mary Sylvia, R.S.M., register Carol Collins, Toni Guglielmi, Karen Pezza and Bernice Sartini for a tournament.

The debating club is under the expert direction of Sister Mary Sylvia, R.S.M. The members meet once a week to discuss debating methods and to prepare talks. Each girl is trained in the art of public speaking by learning to express herself accurately, briefly, and tactfully. Members participate in both formal and informal debates conducted at nearby schools and colleges. Ideas are exchanged and compared at numerous conventions held during the year. Presiding officers of this year's club include: Sheila Lennon, President; Louise Barry, Secretary; Rosemary Cardi, Treasurer.

Courtly Manners

One of our favorite sports here at the Bay is basketball. This year the team is led by experienced Sheila Martin and Alberta Morrisette. The girls practice long hours developing their skill and technique. Their reward is fast action on the court and an impressive record. Each game is attended by an enthusiastic crowd of Bay View students who cheer their team on to win.

Helping the students are the cheerleaders who are always devising new and energetic cheers to spur their own team on and welcome opposing teams. No matter what the score is the girls always show that the most important thing is how the game is played.

Sheila Martin and Alberta Morrisette, co-captains, demonstrate the correct procedure for a jump ball to other members of the team during practice.

are something to Cheer about

Cheerleaders form many patterns during the course of their various drills. Here they are in a circle at the finale of one of the more popular cheers in their vast repertoire.

Sister Mary Marcella, R.S.M., and Susan Wheelan, Denise Mason, Maureen McConnon and Kathy Curtin practice some music for the Christmas Concert.

The Bay View Glee Club represents to all of its audiences enjoyment to be cherished with fondest memories. Lifting voices in beautiful harmony, the members of the Club portray the spirit of the "Bay" through their singing.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Marcella, R.S.M., composed completely of musically inclined juniors and seniors, the Stella Matutina Choristers are always ready to apply themselves when called upon. Whenever and wherever the Glee Club appears for the public it is only after many hours of practice.

This year the girls sang at the Christmas Concert which was held at Bay View and was sponsored by the Band and the Glee Club. To the whole school the Choristers are a group to be envied. They sing like "Angels from Heaven."

Harmony prevails

Members of the chorus of the annual operetta made a pretty picture as they went through one of their routines during the performance.

"Three Little Maids," among the principals of the operetta who enchanted the audience were: Sharon Harpin, Carolyn Durfee and Julia Frigault.

Principals in the operetta included: Joyce Collins, Margaret Geddes, Bernadette Kachanis, Joan Prendergast, and Sandra Famiglietti. The cast played to a full house who enjoyed the singing and comedy portrayed so skillfully.

Our Residential

For out-of-town students whose parents wish them to attend Bay View during the school year, St. Joseph's Hall is a "home away from home." The girls come from as near as Westerly and as far away as South America.

Facilities at the dorm include private and semi-private rooms, a lounge, recreation rooms, the main dining hall, a private dining hall and of course, the chapel, where the girls can begin and end their day.

During their years of residency at the Bay, the girls make lasting friendships with the other boarders and also with the Sisters who are like "mothers" to them.

Seniors: Helene DeBruyne, Jennifer Turano, Sharon Kelly, Leslie Davis and Ivonne Laffite admire a large poodle, one of the mascots in the dorm.

Juniors: Nelia Mullaney, Betsy Fiore, Martha Morrone, Helene Beaudreault, Mary Lou Abbott, Teresa Gallardo, Carmen Boyd, Merylene Lavoie and Liliana Suazo look through some fashion magazines in the lounge.

Section

Sophomores: Maxine Rajotte, Donna Papillon, Deborah O'Brien and Diane Gauthier prepare to watch some of their favorite programs on TV after classes are over for the day.

Prom

Carol Ann Dee, Janet Piscione and their escorts enjoy the buffet supper served to all at the Post Junior Prom Party held in the academy cafeteria.

"It all happened so quickly" . . . after weeks of conferences about tickets, gowns and flowers, the night of the Junior Prom finally came. To most of us it seemed one of the shortest nights of our lives.

Whether we came with the boy next door or the triumphantly returning collegian, for "one brief shining moment" we lived in a make believe world of orchids and taffeta, femininity at its best. For many weeks after, and perhaps even now, more than one teacher has found a far away look in a student's eyes, as a frozen moment of that night flittered across her mind. For that's all that is left of the Junior Prom!

The supreme moment of the night for Elaine McNamara came when she was crowned Junior Prom Queen by her escort and presented with a bouquet of roses in honor of the event.

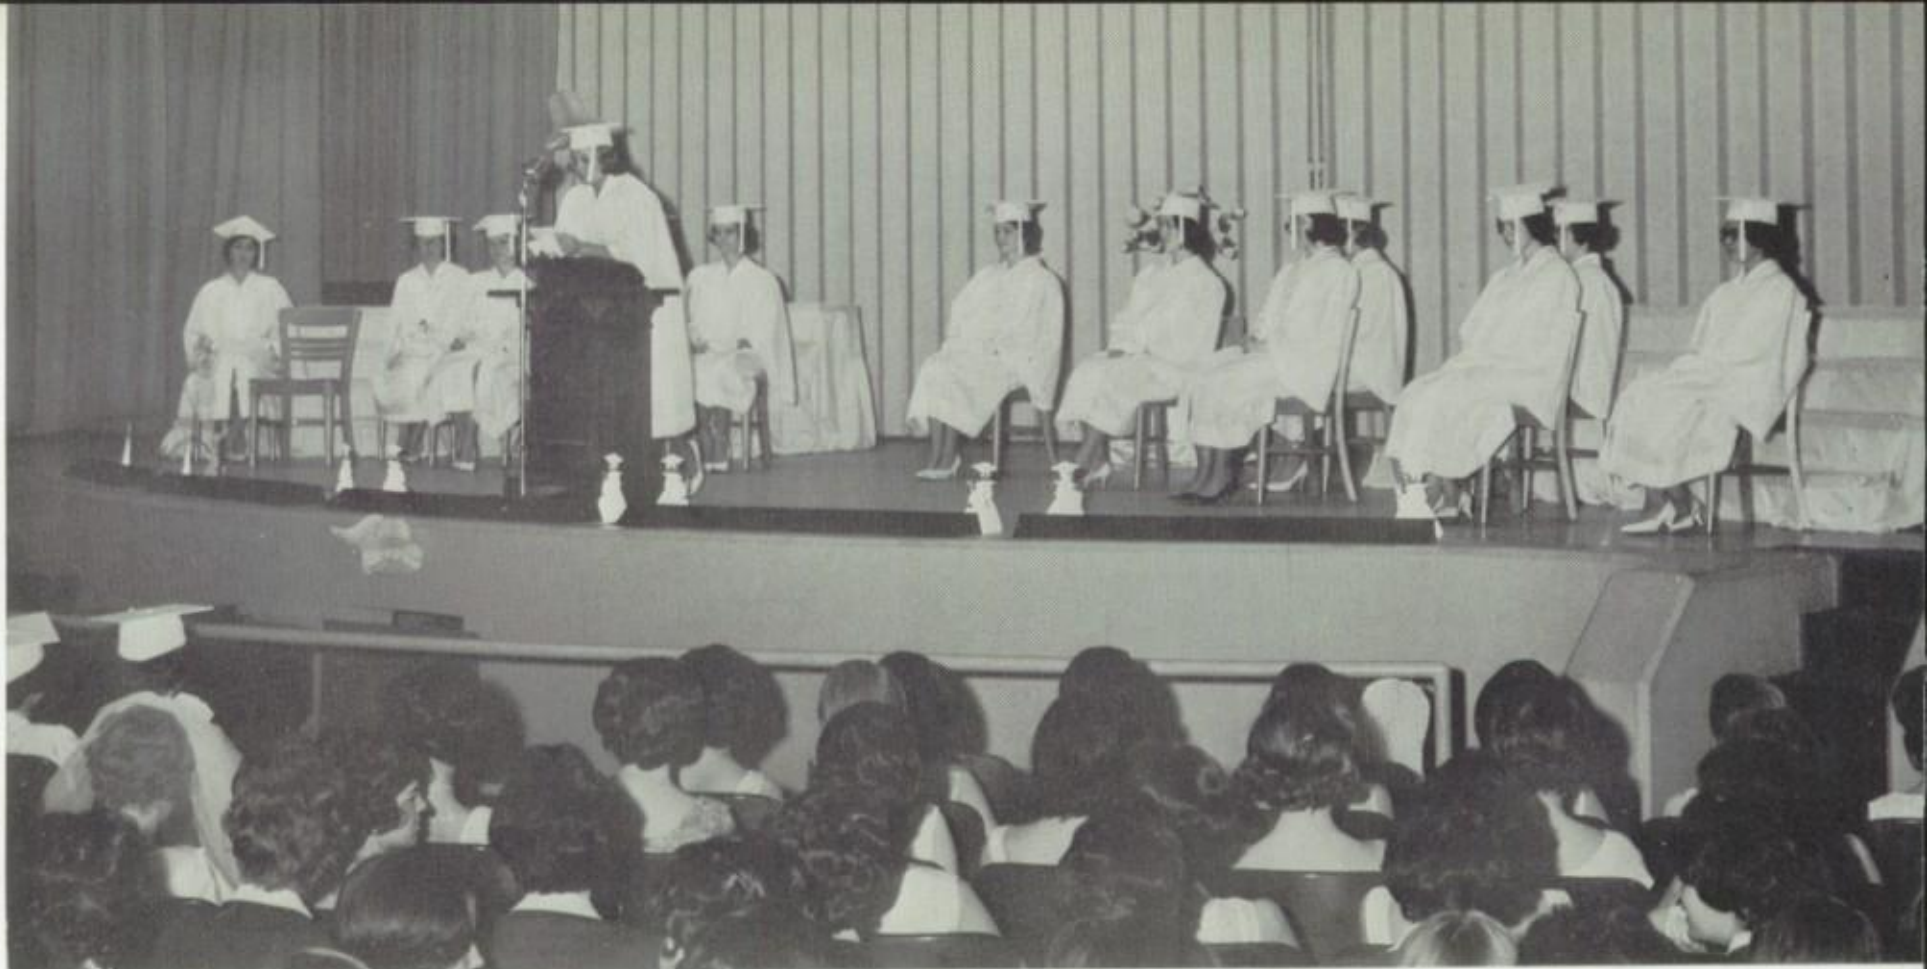

Highlighting the annual Junior Prom in Saint Joseph's Hall is the grand march led by the presidents of the Junior divisions and their escorts.

"We could have danced all night" might easily be the remark as couples swayed to the lilting music of Johnny Azevedo and his orchestra.

The Queen and her court are pictured right after the crowning during the annual ceremony held to highlight the Junior Prom in Saint Joseph's Residence Hall.

Class day is one of the important affairs held during Commencement Week here. Graduates pictured are those who read the class will and prophecy, gave tributes to principal, faculty and undergraduates, and dedicated the class tree.

Commencement Week

Commencement Week! the last week! A week full of excitement for every Senior at Bay View. Each day brings her a little closer to that final big day.

To the excitement of this week belong Class Day—when the history, prophesy and will are presented to the school, and Parents' Night, a night for smiling parents to feel proud of their daughter's achievements.

Yes, this is a big week for Bay View Seniors, their last week at the Bay. Their last week in which to say good-bye to the past and prepare to say hello to the future.

All graduates take part in class day exercises with an audience of undergraduates, parents and friends. Here they listen attentively to tribute to the principal.

△ Girls are part of the bridal party at Parents' Night presentation.

Parents and friends flank graduates as they listen to words of Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Kenny, pastor of St. Brendan's Church, Riverside, who presided at annual commencement exercises.

Forming a guard of honor for arriving prelates, Seniors in white caps and gowns are serious as they march around the front campus for the last time as students of Bay View.

Mary Edwards, commencement speaker, gave her address to fellow graduates, distinguished guests, parents and friends during the seniors' grand finale, Graduation!

Graduation — the beginning and the end — finally comes. This is a day full of very special meaning for the Bay View Senior. It is a day for looking back; it is a day for looking forward. She is now standing on the threshold, with mixed emotions of joy and sadness. Behind her are four years of memories; happy ones, sad ones. Before her, are an indefinite number of years in which to make memories. She leaves behind her a small, quiet place known as the "Bay," a place where she has learned to grow a little, but she leaves it for something bigger, a place where she can help others to grow—the world!

Graduation

May the Grace of the Holy Spirit so lavishly poured out upon us while students of Bay View confirm our hope in Eternal Life as we enter the adult world.

sweet as you and you'll be a success. Have fun and stay out of trouble.
Good luck in the future and with Mr. Kathy, Sue a great kid.

Remember always the laughs and headaches in Fresh. I.B.
Kid, you're a great secretary! Best of luck in all you do.

Always,
Pam

To Kathy
Never forget the laughs we had in our discussions.
Stay always as sweet and wonderful as you are.

Kathy,
A real nice
kid I'm glad I met.
Remember the fun
we had in our freshman year. Stay as sweet as you are now always.
Love ya,
Sue Sylvia

Kathy,
A wonderful kid with a fantastic personality.
Always remember the blast we had at Hendrickson and in school.
Good luck always from a good secretary to a better one.
Always,
Paula

To Kathy
A wonderful gal.
Stay your same old self forever and a day.

Love,
Mary Grace
